

Template for the manuscript of the proceedings

Ichiro Bio¹ · Riha, Hanako² · Gijutsu SHAKAI³

¹Prof. Of bio-graduate school of Bio Reha University (E-mail : ichiro@ristex.ac.jp)

²Nutrition department of Eiyo hospital. ³Bio Corp.

Key words.

Abstract

The abstract, which has been submitted, should be here. Your manuscript must be one page.

This template is being made along the form of the BIOPHILIA materials in Microsoft Word. Please write it in accordance with this template and the form when you make your manuscript. Use a setup of a form of this template as it is, then you can make a manuscript according to the fixed format easily.

It must be used the word “Abstract”, though only the abstract will appear at the abstract part of J-STAGE separately. Be sure not to use “SUMMARY.” For example please describe “Purpose”, “Patient”, “Experimental Test”, “Method”, “Result”, “Consideration or Discussion” and so on after abstract by your decision to choose.

The part of Title

"Title", "Author", " Affiliation and E-mail address", " Abstract " and "Key words" are mentioned in the part of the title in this order.

" Affiliation " is to include an E-mail address, and make it within one line. It is unnecessary except for the main author.

All margins = 2.5 cm .

It is available to use this form with Microsoft Word easily in order to fix the designation.

The space between the lines

This is totally understandable.. It is enough to say: sing-spaced, double-spaced, or one and a half spaced text.

Publishing to the public

Your manuscripts for the proceedings are based on publishing it to the public with J-STAGE. It will be made public in the form in which you submit it as a PDF file.

The text is up to you, but you should follow the guidelines above outlined..